

SCHOOL FEES

INTRODUCTION

School Development Impact Fees are fees that are paid by property owners and developers to school districts to mitigate the impact created by new development on a school district's facilities. As a courtesy to our applicants, the most recent school fee information received by the Planning Division is listed below. However, these fees are levied by the School Districts, who act as a separate jurisdiction. It is suggested that you contact the appropriate School District to determine the most current fee.
