DIWALI, FESTIVAL OF LIGHTS Riverside Metropolitan Museum

Come explore the Indian holiday, Diwali or "festival of lights". Create a clay candleholder, or diya, that shows the triumph of good over evil. Make your mark on our sidewalk rangoli (a design to welcome Hindu deities into the home) and try some traditional Indian sweets. Best of all, learn that this is a festival to celebrate with friends and family!

CELEBRATING CULTURES: DÍA DE LOS MUERTOS TREAT BOXES Mission Inn Museum

Join the Mission Inn Museum as we celebrate cultures that influenced the beautiful art and architecture of the Mission Inn. This month, we will be celebrating Dia de los Muertos by creating colorful treat boxes inspired by this festive Mexican holiday! Frank Miller was inspired by Mexican culture and travelled to the country many times while he was designing his hotel, the Mission Inn. The Saint Francis chapel in the hotel is home to a 25 foot tall ornamental screen made of gold that Mr. Miller had imported from Mexico. This and many other pieces of art and architecture in the hotel represent Mr. Miller's fascination with our neighbor to the South

"DIARY OF A WIMPY KID" & "DORK DIARIES" Riverside Public Library

Inspired by "Diary of a Wimpy Kid" and "Dork Diaries" you have the opportunity to make your own Diary from 1-2. Enjoy a special interactive musical and storytelling experience by Dan Crow at 2-3. Don't close the book on today's adventure, you still have time to make Your own Diary from 3-4.

DAY OF THE DEAD Riverside Art Museum

The Riverside Art Museum celebrates Dia de Muertos (Day of the Dead) with activities for all ages and interests. Learn to make traditional clay skulls with Chelsea Rector from the Gluck Fellows Program of the Arts at UCR, create mock sugar skulls using oil pastels, celebrate with face painting, and tour the Transcending Traditions: Dia de los Muertos exhibit curated by Cosme Cordova

SEEING STARS Fox Riverside Theater Foundation on the mall***

Join the Fox Foundation and celebrate the star-filled lineup coming to the Fox Performing Arts Center during the month of November. We will be making colorful star mobiles and the Association of Women in Science from UCR will be there again with a fun science project. Also make sure to get your family's name on a Hollywood star and be part of our "Walk of Fame!"

***PLEASE NOTE: this program is located on Mission Inn and Main on the Downtown pedestrian mall area.
